

FSC certification for Rauch 2023

At Rauch, we are committed to the sustainable use of raw materials and environmental protection. Obtaining our raw materials from resource-conserving sources is just as important to us as an environmentally friendly manufacturing process. For this reason, we have opted for certification in accordance with FSC® (C127156) (Forest Stewardship Council®, an organization for ensuring and continuously improving responsible forest management). By doing so, we want to set an example that nature conservation and environmental protection start much earlier than the use of paper in the office. Through certification, we want to give our customers the opportunity to offer a seamlessly verifiable production chain for FSC®-certified products. Regular audits certify that our entire chain of custody fully complies with the following Forest Stewardship Council FSC® standards: FSC STD-40-004-3-1 and FSC-STD-50-001-2-1.
